

Press Release

Contact: Errin Behn
Phone: (608)781-9550

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
18 Oct 2012

Onalaska Police Department Teaming Up with Burrachos to Fight
Breast Cancer

The Onalaska Police Department is once again teaming up with Burrachos to raise money for breast cancer research.

On October 29th from 4-9pm anyone either wearing pink or carrying the Police Department's flyer advertising the fund raiser will have 20% of the purchase price of their food donated to the Susan G. Komen Foundation.

"Almost anyone that you ask has had their life touched by this disease," said Onalaska Patrol Officer Errin Behn, this year's coordinator for the fundraiser, "I was very excited to be this year's coordinator, it's a way I can make a difference in this fight and the people at Burrachos are incredibly easy to work with and very supportive."

"This is our third year partnering with Burrachos to raise money for the Susan G. Komen Foundation," said Onalaska Police Chief Jeffrey Trotnic, "This is a great fund raiser, come out, eat delicious fresh Mexican food and raise money for a good cause it couldn't be any easier."

~ MORE ~

Printable flyers are available on the Onalaska Police website at www.cityofonalaska.com or at the Police Department front counter.