ONALASKA PREPARING FOR 4TH ANNUAL NATIONAL NIGHT OUT

The Onalaska Police Department is putting the finishing touches on plans for Onalaska's 4th National Night Out. Held on August 6th in Quincy Street Park, National Night Out is a way for the community to take back the night.

"This is our fourth year holding National Night Out," said Onalaska Police Chief Jeffrey Trotnic, "it was one of my goals when I took command of the Department and I am very pleased with the results. Every year I see citizens coming together, neighbors meeting some for the first time, celebrating what a great community we have here in Onalaska."

National Night Out will kick off at 5:30pm and run until 8:30pm. The event will feature the popular "Dinner for a Dollar" with games, a Petting Zoo, contests, music, courtesy of La Crosse Family Radio Group, a bounce house donated by the Big Event Company and a Car Show sponsored by The Blue Moon.

"Our friends from the Onalaska Fire Department will also be on hand for "Water Wars"," said Trotnic, "we are encouraging people to come out, bring the family and celebrate our community."
